Fortitude Advisory Group L.L.C.
Form CRS Customer Relationship
Summary July 2022

Fortitude Advisory Group L.L.C. (“Fortitude,” “we” or “us”) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as an investment adviser and provides advisory services rather than brokerage services. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

- We offer investment advisory services to retail investors on a regular basis. We review your accounts on a periodic basis, and we monitor our portfolio (which is comprised of securities held in all client accounts) constantly during the trading day. We normally impose a minimum account size. We offer advisory services to you on a discretionary basis, which means we buy and sell securities in our clients’ accounts without asking in advance, except for securities in an account that a client does not wish sold. Some of our financial professionals offer financial planning services. Others only act as solicitors for other investment advisers.

For additional information, please see Form ADV, brochure Items 4, and 8.

- Ask your financial professional –
 - Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
 - How will you choose investments for me or to recommend to me?
 - What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

- We normally base our advisory fees on a percentage of assets under management. Fees may be billed monthly or quarterly in arrears or in advance. Your asset-based fee is based on the balance in your account on the last day (if paid in arrears) or the first day (if paid in advance) of the relevant period. Our fees are generally negotiable. Your fee rate is listed in the agreement you sign with us. You are responsible for the payment of all third-party fees (i.e. custodian fees, brokerage fees, mutual fund fees, ticket charges, etc.). Those fees are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by us. Financial planning fees may be flat rate or based on the amount of assets you provide us to manage.
- The more assets there are in your account, the more you will pay in fees. We therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.
- You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For additional information, please see Form ADV, Part 2A brochure Items 5 and 6.

- Ask your financial professional-
 - Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $100,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

- When we act as your investment adviser, we are held to a fiduciary standard and obligated to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they may affect the recommendations we provide you. Here is an example to help you understand what this means.
- As noted above, the more assets there are in your account, the more you will pay in fees. We therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.

Ask your financial professional –

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

For additional information, please see Form ADV, Part 2A brochure Items 10, 12, and 14.

How do your financial professionals make money?

- Our financial professionals receive a portion of the management fees you pay, as well as financial planning fees you pay. Certain of our financial professionals are registered representatives of a broker dealer or are insurance agents. In those cases, such persons may receive (but not us) brokerage or insurance commissions. In other cases, certain of our financial professionals may recommend you invest in a private fund or SPV that they (but not us) are associated with and which pay them (but not us) compensation. Certain of our financial professionals act as solicitors for other advisers and receive solicitor compensation (which we share).

For additional information, please see Form ADV, Part 2A brochure Items 5 and Item 10.

Do you or your financial professionals have any legal or disciplinary history?

- Yes. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals.

Ask your financial professional –

- As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
